PROJECT

Student Coding Course

Work experience – cancelled, part-time jobs – cancelled, extra-curriculars – cancelled!

Don't fear, Netflix is not the only solution to all student boredom... A personalised and interactive project-based coding course which helps students connect and develop skills to benefit their careers.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

1. Feedback and suggestions for how to market the course
2. Connections with students, parents, student organisations and education programs
3. Social media promoters (paid on referral)

MEET THE TEAM

Felix Hall
I am a full-stack developer. I love Python, which powers Instagram, YouTube and TikTok. I love gettting myself involved in business and problem solving, having represented Australia in a problem solving comp and later coaching a team! I have worked for 2 years on projects for startups, and because I want to help people have an impact I am teaching others too. That's also why I joined SHH, to help build simple solutions which can have an impact.
